

Coronavirus Update

Colchester Livestock Market

Due to the current Coronavirus outbreak Stanfords wish to confirm that their weekly Tuesday sale of all classes of sheep and cattle will continue to be held.

However, in order to mitigate the risks associated with the spread of the virus for the time being, access to the market will be restricted to vendors and buyers together with necessary staff.

With great reluctance we have decided that the canteen will be closed.

We would ask all attendees to the market to use maximum biosecurity, ensuring their hands are washed at all times and that close contact is minimised.

Any person showing symptoms of the virus or has an underlying health issue should not attend the sale.

Following Government guidelines any pregnant women should also not attend the sale.

Soap and water are available for washing and should be used.
